Digital Vernacular

Young Architects Forum, 2017 UIA Seoul

As one of collateral events in the 2017 UIA Seoul, the Young Architects Forum Korea will host international young architects for the special forum. In accordance with UIA Seoul's main theme, Soul of City, and the sub-them, Architecture Conflux, this forum will have a series of lectures and discussions on the topic of Digital Vernacular. These days, computation has become a predominant current in architectural design exploration, but the variations of culture and aesthetic preference may differentiate the applications of digital design methodologies for each region. We define this variability as Digital Vernacular. In this respect, the forum will aim to seek for the meanings of design computations to young architects through revealing their works and thoughts in order to anticipate the new era of architecture.
