Mezzanine. Barcelona

Imatge:

@Col·legi d'Arquitectes de Catalunya

The characteristics of the Mezzanine make it one of the most emblematic spaces in the Association's building for holding any kind of event. Located on the mezzanine level of the Plaça Nova building between the ground and first floors, it is accessible from the main lobby by staircase. The completely open-plan space covers an area of around 140 m². Three of its sides have views onto the street and the fourth opens up to the main lobby and the exhibition hall. The ceiling height is 2.33 m.

Location: Barcelona

Main uses: The Mezzanine is used regularly for all kinds of events, the main ones being exhibitions, conferences, round tables, product launches and press conferences. Its unique location, elevated over the ground floor of the building, and the views over the whole Plaça Nova and part of the Avinguda de la Catedral, make this a highly attractive space that is very much in demand.
